ORDER DENYING MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

On August 13, 2012, the National Labor Relations Board issued a Decision and Determination of Dispute in this proceeding, finding that employees represented by International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 48, AFL-CIO (IBEW), are entitled to perform the work of plugging in, unplugging, and monitoring refrigerated cargo containers at a port terminal in Portland, Oregon, thereby rejecting a competing claim to the work by the International Longshore and Warehouse Union, Local 8, AFL-CIO (ILWU). In its decision, the Board denied the request of the Pacific Maritime Association (PMA) for special permission to appeal the Regional Director's denial of its motion to intervene, and the Regional Director's denial of ILWU's motion to quash the Section 10(k) hearing. The PMA now files a motion for reconsideration of the Board's denial of both motions.

PMA's motion for reconsideration of its motion to intervene is denied as it raises nothing not previously considered. Accordingly, PMA lacks standing to contest the Board's denial of ILWU's motion to quash or otherwise to contest the Board's determination to assert Section 10(k) jurisdiction and its consideration of the relative merits of the dispute in awarding the work in dispute to employees represented by IBEW.
